Thanks Jo. Will do.

I do have one thing to declare – a lunch with Sitesh Bohjani – an ex ACCC Commissioner. Over my protests he insisted on paying for lunch because I had taken him to lunch when he first started at the Commission many years ago and he wanted to say congratulations and repay the favour. The lunch was up the street at X-Change and the value would have been about $20.00. My normal practice is to not accept such lunches – this was just one of those awkward situations.

Cheers
Delia

Hi Delia

Please find attached the declaration form and associated notes that can guide you in filling in the private interests form.

At the meeting there was discussion on the hospitality guidelines. The guidelines can be found in the guide under the personal benefit section. The guidelines are quite specific that all accepted gifts, benefits and travel or hospitality that is accepted by you should be declared to the Chairman. So if you have any such declarations to make to cover the period since you began in the job I would be grateful if you could notify Rod and copy me.

It would be appreciated if you could return your statement of private interest form to Rod, copied to me by 1 October 2012. Once I have received your completed form my understanding is that you have agreed to your form being copied by me to all other ACCC Commissioners.

Happy to discuss or answer any queries that you may have.

Jo
